STEVE'S RAMP

PICS BY:

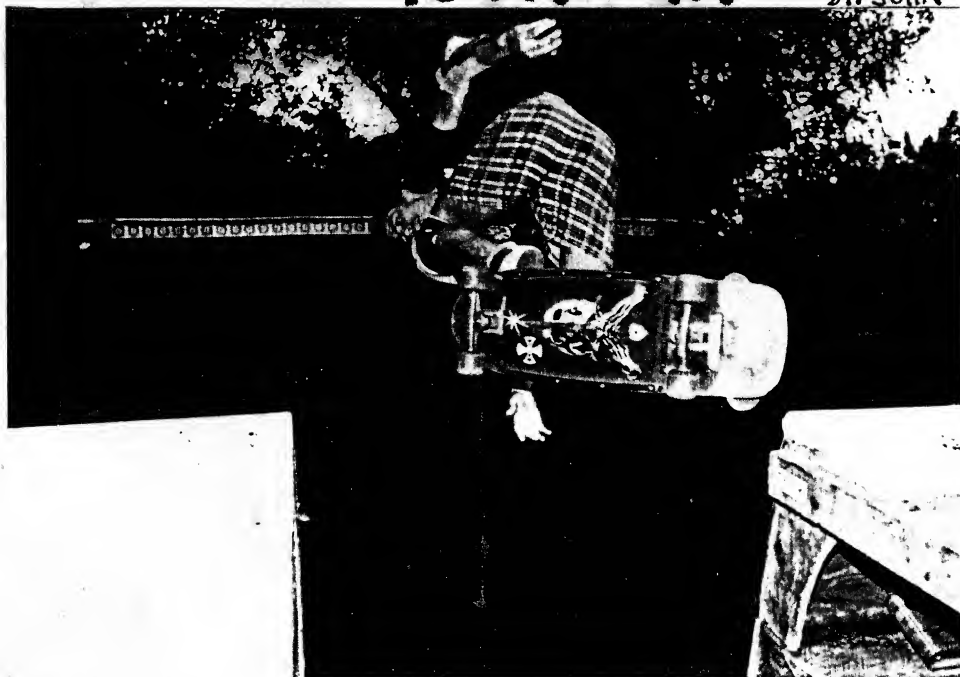

STEVE M.

What was in ALMADEN, is now gone. The first one built was a mini replica of Joe's ramp, which USED to be in Los Gatos. This one was six feet high, Eight feet wide and had ten feet of flat. Another ramp has been built (not ours) pics next ish. Many a session happened here, Including one with Ramsay, Bob DeNike, and Ross Mc Gowen

LANCE MOUNTAIN

BY: JOHN

This interview was done thru the mail after Lance returned home from Texas, and the Del Mar contest.

J: First off, congrats on joining Team Powell. Why did you switch teams?

L: My old sponsor was doing nothing for me or the sport as far as I'm concerned. I was looking for a future in the sport not just skating, but most importantly, in the sport working with a team. Powell offered this to me.

J: Will you be having a new model put out soon?

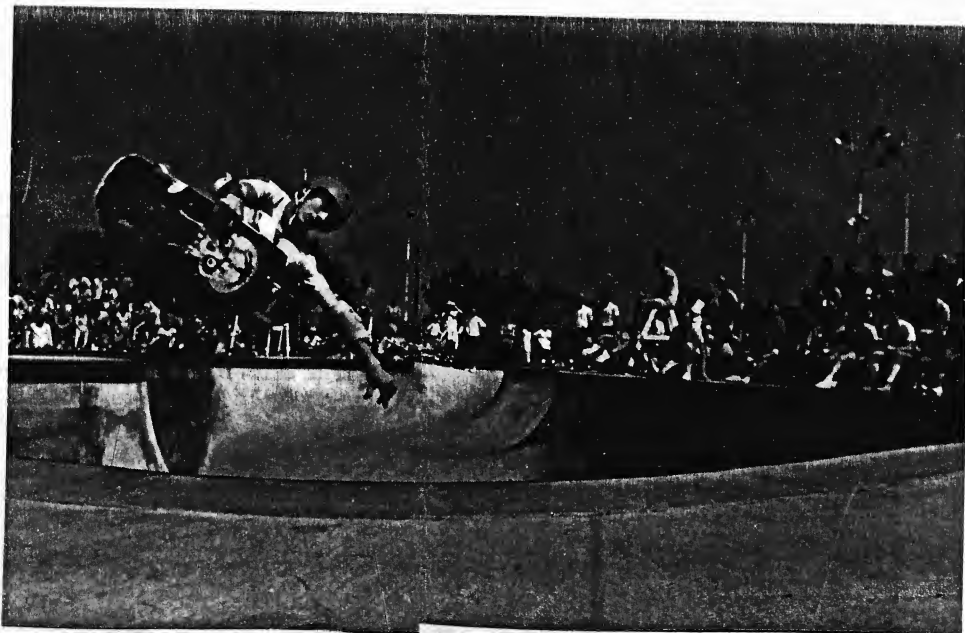

L: I will probably not have a model out soon, I'll have to do good in a contest and be known better, so that sale of a board will pay off for Powell.

J: How old are you ?

L: 19 years old

J: When and where did you start riding skateboards?

L: I started skating in the fourth grade. A friend down the street had been skating. We started by sitting on the board and rolling down our hill. Then it started from there.

J: How did you like the Thrasher Skate Rock show?

L: The first night was happening, alot better than LA shows. The second night was kinda dry, no one was there.

J: Who were your favorite bands there?

L: Drunk Injuns had a good stage show, Big Boys were a fun type band, Faction cause I know them.

J: How about bands who were not there?

L: SLF, Sham 69, Captain and Tenille, Rizzilos, old

Ant and the Antz, Dolly Parton used to rip, but no more.

J: Where do you like to ride?

L: I have a ramp I like, most any other ramps. Parks are a little stale, not too fun.

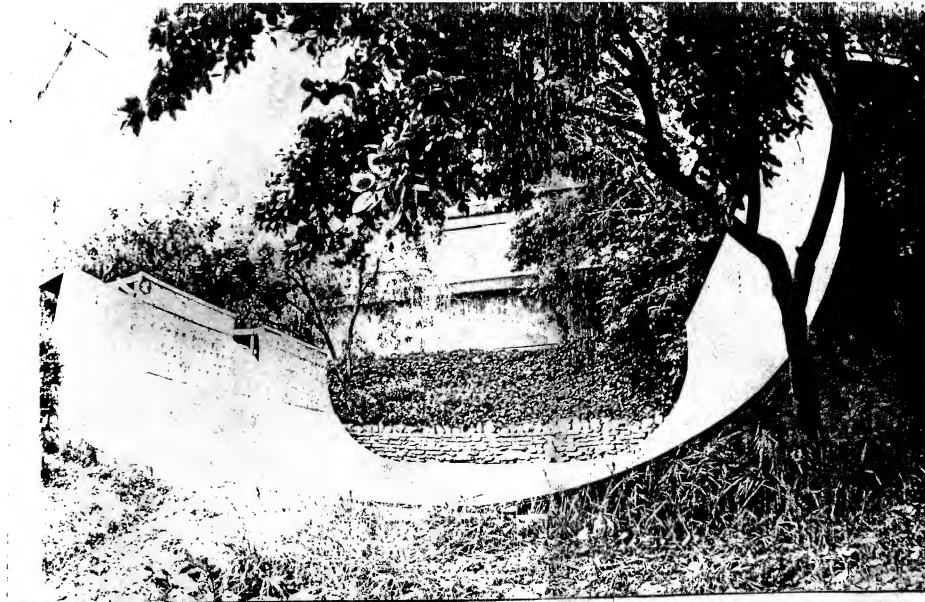

J: Why did Whittier close? It seemed to have alot of business.

L: It didn't have alot of business. It lost money for 2 years.

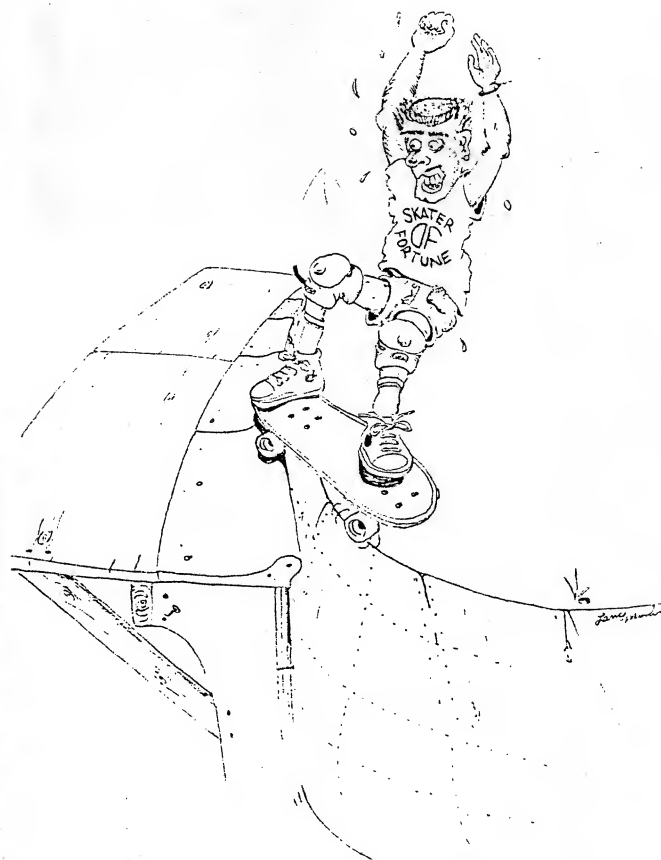

J: Who influences you, riding wise?

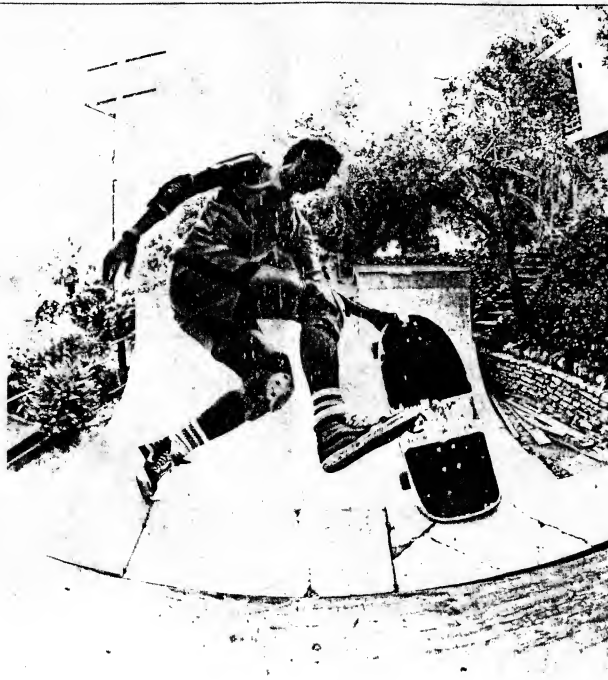

L: Darrel Miller, Ray Bones, Caballero.

J: What do you think of N. Blender's questions in Trans World Skateboards?

BY THE WAY,
LANCE DREW
THE STICKER ↓

That Neil, They're cool.

J: How did you get the writing job?

L: Neil told me to help them so I did. It's fun.

J: What Truck Company do you ride for?

L: Indy cause they rip. Fausto is cool too.

J: Are you done with High School and all?

L: High School is over with. Art College may be soon.

J: Do you have lots of people hanging around you much?

L: I don't have many freinds since school. Not too many people know me.

J: Do people always want to ride your ramp?

L: Yeah, alot of people want to ride.

J: Do girls ever come around to check things out?

L: Girls don't like it

J: Didn't you have a zine like this?

L: Lump was the first.

J: What do you think about "Straight Edge"

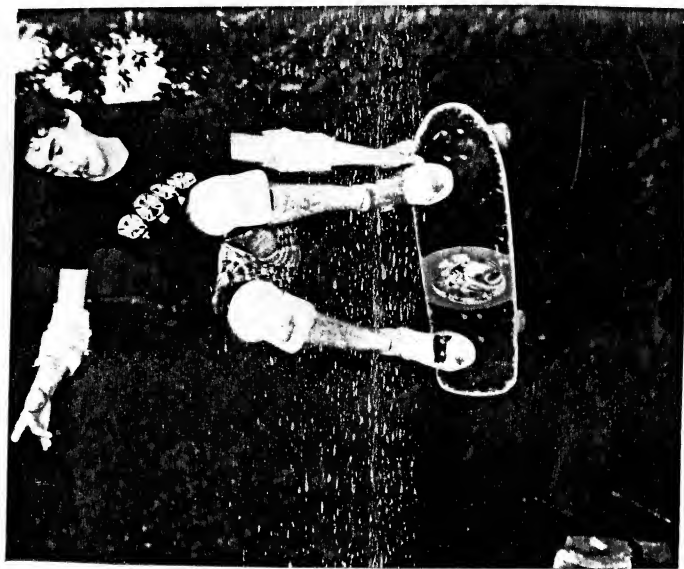

L: It's just another click for punks but it's one of the better ones.

J: Do you still go skating?

L: I sold my board to Lester and haven't bought another.
